GREATEST BATTLE OF ALL TIME NOW RAGING

Moscow Reports Heavy Fighting In North Sector

Claims No Important Developments On Other Fronts, However

NAZIS MAKE CLAIM SMOLENSK CAPTURED

Smolensk Is But 225 Miles From Soviet Capital— Important Junction

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
MOSCOW, July 17.—Heavy fighting during the night in the region of Pskov and Porkhov on the northern sector of the Russo-German battle front was announced by the Soviet high command today.

"There were no important developments on other fronts," the new war communique stated.

A previous Russian war bulletin revealed a serious threat to Russian defenses on the central front by admitting German legions have approached the region of Smolensk.

(Editor's note: The German high command announced today that Smolensk had been captured yesterday, whereas the Soviets conceded merely that heavy fighting had occurred in the Smolensk and other areas.)

Deny German Claim

(The new Russian communique, denying important developments during the night on the front save in the Pskov and Porkhov areas—which are situated far to the north-west of Smolensk—could be interpreted as an oblique Russian denial of the German claim.)

Smolensk, the last of the main fortified bastions along the Napoleonic road to Moscow, is but 225 miles from the Soviet capital.

PA NEW OBSERVES

While New Castle was having the downpour on Wednesday evening, Ellwood City had no rain at all, according to reports made to PA New today.

At Washington tonight the draft lottery will be conducted, which will determine the order of call for army service of the youths of 21 who registered here recently.

With 93 persons in Lawrence County Boy Scout camp this week, including the scouts and members of the camp staff, local scout officials believe that a new record for registration has been attained by the camp.

It can be noticed that the World War Veterans Boulder Monument in the park, on the Diamond, is being shown off very nicely at present, by the lovely low pine trees that surround it.

Repairing of sidewalks in the neighborhood of Court, Walnut and Pine streets, is making a splendid improvement, and will be much safer for pedestrians, especially in the night time.

Col. Lindbergh Makes Protest

Sends Letter To President Because Of Attacks Upon Him By Sec. Ickes

(International News Service)
HUNTINGTON, N. Y., July 17.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today made formal protest to President Roosevelt because of attacks upon him by Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes and asked an apology from that cabinet member.
Secretary Ickes in a New York address last Monday charged that Colonel Lindbergh was a mouthpiece of the Nazi party line in this country and repeatedly characterized Lindbergh as "this knight of the German eagle."

In his letter to the president, Colonel Lindbergh declared flatly he is not connected in any way with any foreign government and reminded Mr. Roosevelt that his decoration by the German government occurred while he was carrying out the request of the American ambassador to Germany. Colonel Lindbergh also offered to appear before a presidentially appointed committee and face investigation into his activities.

Prince Konoye In Conference With Emperor

New Cabinet Must Decide Policy Of Nation In Soviet-Nazi War

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
TOKYO, July 17.—Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye today agreed to form a new cabinet to succeed his own resigned ministry as the official news agency Domei announced there would be no fundamental change in Japan's domestic or foreign policies.
Konoye accepted an imperial command to form a new cabinet, and received pledges of cooperation from the war and navy ministers.

By JOSEPH DYNAN
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)
TOKYO, July 17.—Prince Fumimaro Konoye, whose Japanese cabinet resigned yesterday to permit formation of a stronger government, was summoned to the imperial palace today to confer with Emperor Hirohito.
It was believed Konoye will form a new government.

The Domei (Japanese) news agency said that Konoye went to the palace at 4:15 p. m. and called this an "indisputable indication he will continue at his job."

The political situation precipitated by yesterday's sudden cabinet resignation left Japan faced with the choice of all-out cooperation with the Axis powers and war against Russia or a continued policy of caution.

Emperor Rushes To Tokyo
Emperor Hirohito rushed back to Tokyo from his summer palace to deal with the new crisis and called this an "indisputable indication he will continue at his job."

Meanwhile, for the time being at least, Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka, who was responsible for the tripartite pact with the Axis powers, was expected to be working out within the next three days.

Following a night conference between House and Senate leaders, federal price control administration and Vice-President Wallace, Barkley said that it has been generally agreed to give Henderson "overall" price fixing powers rather than restrict them to specifically named products and materials.

The group will meet again before the end of the week to begin drafting.

Many Friends Join Mayor To Observe Seventieth Birthday

MAYOR CHAS. B. MAYNE

That pesky old gentleman of the clouds, J. May, on Wednesday evening tried his darndest to spoil the seventieth birthday celebration of Mayor Charles B. Mayne at Moore's quarries camp, near the Wilmington road, but he failed, yes, ignominiously. Before the birthday festivities had ended more than 150 friends had dined on his delicious turtle soup, soft drinks, hot-dog and cheese sandwiches, then ravenously devoured ice cream and cake.
Everything had been set by W. S. Moore and family, friends of Pittsburgh Charlie when a clan from the skies barometered a heavy storm. Tables and chairs were hastily removed, which were restored about the well kept lawns beneath stately trees, when the torrential downpour subsided.
Many Friends Arrive
And then the caravan of friends began. Auto after auto, loaded with people from all ranks of city and county life, poured into the picnic scene and, after showering congratulations upon Mayor Mayne who is yet as spry as a young prizefighter, entered into the evening's enjoyment.

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Declaring that the national interest has now been in peril for the past two months, Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, today asked Congress to authorize a draft army of unlimited size.
Appearing before the senate military affairs committee in support of legislation to extend the service of draftees, national guardsmen and reservists beyond the year for which they were originally called, the general hinted at the possibility of America being attacked by a foreign foe, but denied that the war department is considering the formation of a second A. E. F.

No Details Given
The general did not detail in just what manner the peril to this nation's security has increased, but it was approximately two months ago that Hitler completed his conquest of the Balkans and the eastern Mediterranean.

The immediate problem, Gen. Marshall told the committee, is to enact legislation keeping the army at its present strength.

Capture of vital Smolensk, the last major defense barrier on the road to Moscow—225 miles to the east—was announced today by Adolf Hitler's headquarters, with further assertions that other major victories are shaping up for the Germans.

See Possible "Break" In Assembly Deadlock Over Reapportionment

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, July 17.—The legislature today plodded into its 192nd day, still chasing the will-o'-the-wisp of final adjournment with the closing day uncertain to leaders as well as legislators, despite the fact both houses have already voted to end the record-long session.
A possible "break" in the congressional reapportionment deadlock was seen when the senate voted by 31 to 2 to inform the house that it favored a settlement by decreasing the Philadelphia membership at Washington by one. The next step is now apparently up to the house. Unless agreement is reached, all 33 congressmen will have to be elected at large in 1942.

The senate also adopted by a vote of 29 to 9 a concurrent resolution, already approved by the house, calling for adjournment sine die at 11:45 p. m. (E. D. T.) Tuesday, July 15. Both houses are still operating on "Tuesday legislative day."

Placed On Spot
By adopting the adjournment resolution the senate placed both houses in a position where they must let the final gavel fall or stay in session over another week-end.

U. S. Officials Pessimistic About Japan

Rapprochement Not Anticipated

American Leaders Believe New Jap Cabinet Will Be Of Military Trend

NO COMMENT IN U. S. OFFICIAL CIRCLES

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 17.—American diplomatic officials today were pessimistic regarding possible rapprochement between the United States and Japan as a result of the Japanese political crisis.

Veteran observers of the far eastern scene believe that the Japanese elder statesmen who are charged with selecting a new cabinet will look to the army and navy for leadership.

Selection of a cabinet of predominantly military complexion these observers believe, will blunt the slender hopes of the American government that peace can be maintained in the Pacific.

American officials, watching closely every development, said there is always the possibility that Japan may embark upon a completely neutral policy toward the axis powers and Russia and do nothing to further strain relations with the United States and Britain. But they are not optimistic that Japan will engage in such a major reversal of policy.

Refuse Public Comment

State department officials refused public comment on the Japanese situation, although this government has before it a report from American Ambassador Joseph Grew. The ambassador held a lengthy conference with Chichi Onishi, Japanese vice foreign minister, but no word regarding the nature of this meeting was divulged by department officials.

It is unlikely, however, that Grew's report on the far eastern developments contains any definite indication as to what Japan's next move will be. Officials recalled that Japanese government spokesmen have stated that the world will learn of Japan's new policies as they are translated into action.

American officials believe that Japan will embark on a major military move shortly after the new cabinet is formed. Various statements by Japanese leaders touching on military and economic matters support this conclusion, it was said.

The resignation of Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka, according to these officials, is no guarantee that the new cabinet will follow more moderate policies. Matsuoka was influential in aligning Japan with the axis powers and in promulgation of the neutrality pact with Soviet Russia. Indications that the new cabinet may take on a strong military complexion, it was explained, portend even more aggressive policies.

Just what the nature of a new Japanese military move will be can only be a matter of guesswork, officials stated. There have been reports that Japan may attempt to seize Russia's potentially rich maritime provinces in Siberia. Other reports hint of a Japanese drive southward to Indo-China and Thailand, and possibly as far as the Netherlands Indies.

AMERICAN CONSULAR TRAIN IS BEING HELD NEAR ITALIAN BORDER

New York, July 17.—Axis consular agents ousted from the United States—had been delayed.

(Editor's note: This morning the West Point was reported several hundred miles at sea en route to Lisbon.)

To Hold Train

With regard to the exchange of consular personnel, the foreign office informed the American embassy, the Italian government decided to hold the American consular train in Italy for several days.

The foreign office said arrangements will be made for exchange of consular groups to occur in such manner and at such place as will permit the groups to pass from jurisdiction of the exchanging countries simultaneously.

As a result of this notification, it was believed the train carrying the Americans will not be permitted to leave San Remo until Sunday.

Meanwhile, permission to leave Italy was granted a number of American citizens, including Mrs. Collins, wife of the American vice consul at Florence, and four employees of the American Express Co. Athens branch who are now in Italy. This permission was granted after officials commanded places aboard outgoing airplanes.

So far, however, none of these Americans has succeeded in leaving.

Expelled Axis Group En Route

NEW YORK, July 17.—The U. S. naval transport West Point, carrying approximately 500 ousted German, Italian and Japanese consular representatives and propagandists, today was reported several hundred miles at sea en route to Lisbon.

The heavily-armed vessel, formerly the luxury liner America, weighed anchor off Ambrose light yesterday after more than a 24-hour delay in her scheduled sailing. The West Point was held until the last of the Axis agents were aboard.

SMOLENSK FALLS TO NAZI TROOPS, BERLIN REPORTS

numerous battles are now progressing with a view to pushing the Red armies completely out of western Russia.

Asserting that in addition to the capture of Smolensk, the last major barrier on the highway to Moscow, German forces also took Kishinev, capital of Bessarabia, on the southern front with the support of Rumanian forces, it was announced.

The chief difference between the fighting now in progress and that of the previous three weeks is that there is no longer a uniform front line.

Instead there are now local sectors defending each particular region, with the Ukrainian capital of Kiev besieged and Leningrad in the north now isolated.

225 Miles From Moscow
Furthermore, it was stated, German troops are now standing on the hard-surfaced highway at Smolensk—about 225 miles from Moscow itself.

German officials said that the Soviet forces now facing the German onslaught are largely "motley divisions" of mixed reserves, "stragglers and rookies."

Smoking ruins and charred walls are all that remain of Smolensk and the city's condition is nearly identical to that in which it was left when Napoleon's troops marched past more than a century ago in their ill-fated invasion.

But today, German authorities stated, Smolensk is now the focal point for a broad push against Moscow down a front nearly 100 miles wide.

The German Panzer units moving against the Soviet capital will undoubtedly follow the highway to Moscow, timing their approach to conform with the general staff's plan, authorities said.

For this reason it was impossible to forecast the speed at which the German drive against Moscow will develop.

According to the high command communiqué, Smolensk was occupied by the advancing German forces yesterday.

that mining of two harbors, Manila and Subic, has been completed by U. S. forces.

Admiral towers significantly indicated that the naval patrol duty in the Philippines and other Pacific areas is not "just practice work." He stated further that not only are naval planes patrolling both oceans, but that "American-made" planes are "doing patrol work all over the world."

Seeks Base Developments
The statement came as Towers urged the House Naval Affairs Committee to approve a bill authorizing naval expenditure of $300,000,000 to develop its bases—many of them on outlying Pacific and Atlantic islands.

Rep. Cole (R) N. Y., asked the admiral if the United States was engaged in air patrols on the Pacific. He replied:

"The navy is patrolling by planes in the Atlantic and the Pacific, the Philippine area and the Panama area. I am sure that this committee knows it was one of our planes, an American plane, which located and trailed the Bismarck. United States built planes are doing patrol work all over the world."

(At the time of the destruction of the German battleship Bismarck London disclosed the vessel had been located by an American made plane which had been sold to the British.)

unite as to possess great stocks of aluminum ores but it's also true that to produce a pound of aluminum from aluminum ore consumes thousands of kilowatt-hours of hydro-electric-power and this is most precious. Defense activities are placing a heavy strain on our power plants and every pound of scrap aluminum produced from the base-metal and back yards of American homes will save thousands of kilowatt-hours of precious power for other defense needs.

"Perhaps the most interesting rumor is that this house-to-house collection of scrap aluminum is just a propaganda stunt. Perhaps that also is true if honest propaganda is education in democratic unity and harmony in a common purpose; then this campaign is the most wholesome form of honest propaganda.

As each of us takes the pieces of unused or worn-out aluminum about our homes he will be doing something for every other one of his 130 million countrymen. mies from the Soviet capital. It is an important railroad and communications junction.

According to the high command communiqué heavy battles continued in the Pskov, Smolensk, Bobruisk and Novograd sectors.

The announcement said a German tank battalion retreating from Rogachev had been surrounded and destroyed and added that the Soviet air force had bombed the Rumanian oil center of Ploesti again as well as the cities of Sulina, Tulcea and Saccas.

"Huge Sea Of Flames"
The London Daily Mirror quoted the Moscow radio as announcing Russian bombers left the Ploesti oil fields "huge sea of flames."

(The London Daily Telegraph reported from Stockholm that the city of Tallinn, capital of Sovietized Estonia, had been transformed into a raging inferno. The Tallinn garrison was reported defending the city's ring of forts to the last man and Premier Josef Stalin's "scorched earth" order was said to have been carried out with "ruthless efficiency."

According to the Rome radio, in a broadcast picked up by the BBC, communications between Leningrad and Russian forces operating on the central sector of the front have been cut. Forests around Leningrad were reported burning.

NBC also intercepted a Budapest radio report stating Soviet paratroopers have landed on Rumanian soil near the Transylvanian border wearing uniforms similar to those of Rumanian army regulars. The paratroopers were said to have been caught and disarmed.

According to the Soviet military communiqué, the Red air force destroyed German motorized units and attacked Nazi airbases as well as troop concentrations and units engaged in crossing rivers.

The Moscow radio said Soviet warships shelled Riga, the Latvian capital now in German hands and that Russian planes also bombed the city. German bombers were stated to have made an unsuccessful attempt to attack the Russian warships.

Put Chemistry Lab On Wheels

STATE COLLEGE, July 17.—To meet the emergency demands of defense education work throughout the state, the Pennsylvania State college has put a chemistry laboratory on wheels—the first mobile unit to be used in engineering defense training.

More than three dozen experiments can be demonstrated in the "laboratory on wheels." The students enrolled in defense courses as well as the general public can witness the principles of chemistry as they apply to the engineering courses taught in the various centers.

ing a bill. Others who attended the conference were Speaker Rayburn and House Majority Leader McCormack.

Expects Special Message
Barkley said he expects President Roosevelt to submit a special message to Congress on the controversial issue simultaneously with introduction of the bills.

It was indicated however that the president has given his congressional leaders and Henderson a free hand in drafting the legislation, which is certain to face stiff opposition.

There was some discussion at the conference of fixing a ceiling on wages as a means of price control. Barkley said, but he cautioned against "speculating too heavily on this."

"We discussed many proposals to control prices, of course," Barkley said, "but no decisions were reached and I wouldn't go too heavy on the fixing of wages."

It was indicated that the conferees arrived at the conclusion that it would be impractical to attempt price control through tax manipulation, because this method would not be far reaching enough.

There was some discussion of fixing rents, it was said, but in event this program is taken it would be carried out on a small scale for a trial period.

"All we did was to go over the whole broad picture, and we made no decisions, one way or the other," Barkley said.

It was definitely decided, however, that the congressional leaders will press for immediate passage of the price-fixing legislation. At two previous meetings between Henderson and the House and Senate chiefs they were unable to decide whether to go ahead with the controversial program at this time.

and the neutrality pact with Russia, was removed from the political scene.

Matsuoka, who returned to Tokyo three months ago from a tour of Europe during which he signed the treaty with Russia, was ill at home but sent his resignation in writing to Konoze.

As Konoze, who remained acting premier on orders of Emperor Hirohito, sought to settle the cabinet crisis, political and military leaders debated the course Japan should follow.

Alternatives For Japan
The chief alternatives open to Japan appeared as follows:

1.—Full and immediate military association with Germany and Italy, which might mean a possible Japanese move against Vladivostok and Siberia.

2.—Reconciliation with the United States and Britain, with a Japanese "hands off" policy toward the Russo-German and Anglo-German wars.

3.—An independent, militant policy directed toward the South Pacific including renewed pressure for economic settlements with the Dutch East Indies and French Indo-China.

4.—Complete neutrality toward the Axis, Russia, Britain and the United States and devotion of all Japan's energies upon efforts to end the war with China.

Policy Not To Change
Tokyo, July 17.—The official Japanese news agency Domei announced today that no fundamental change in either domestic or foreign policies will result from resignation of the cabinet of Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoze.

As Konoze conferred again with Emperor Hirohito and political consultations among government leaders continued with a halt, Domei said:

"What consequences will result from resignation of the Konoze cabinet with regard to international policy remain absolutely dark for the time being and hence it is impossible to make any predictions."

It is pointed out merely that neither domestic nor foreign policies will fundamentally change, regardless of how the coming cabinet is constituted."

southeastern England but the air ministry said damage and casualties were small.

Attack Docks
An official announcement stated squadrons of British Blenheim-Bristol bombers carried out a low-level attack on the Rotterdam docks, scoring direct hits on many ships, including a vessel of 15,000 tons and others between 2,000 and 10,000 tons.

Heavy damage also was inflicted on warehouses and military stores, the air ministry said, adding that four bombers were lost.

(An official German announcement stated German night fighters and anti-aircraft batteries shot down three British raiders over northwestern Germany during the night. The communiqué said a few bombs caused "insignificant damage" and wounded some civilians.)

Card Of Thanks
I wish to thank my many friends and my kind neighbors for their sympathy during my bereavement at the death of my husband. Also for cars, beautiful flowers and for the many sympathy cards.

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.—John Brister, of Ambler, and two fellow graduates of Dartmouth College, class of 1941, are awaiting a summons to report for duty in the British army with the king's royal rifle corps.

Brister and Charles G. Bolte, Greenwich, Conn., and William Durkee, San Marion, Calif., will be given commissions after training in England. The regiment was formed after colonial and Indian wars and stipulates inclusion of "colonials familiar with Indian fighting."

FOR PEACE IN SOUTH AMERICA

FAVORABLE response of the Peruvian and Ecuadorian governments to the mediation offers of the United States, Argentina and Brazil gives promise of an amicable solution of a controversy that contained the seeds of a major South American conflict.

Pending arbitration of the difference, it was suggested by the three Powers that the military forces of both republics be removed ten miles back from the disputed frontier, leaving in the jungle a sort of no-man's land. This withdrawal, initial step toward peaceable settlement, has been agreed to.

Arguments over boundaries are an old Spanish-American custom, and this particular one may not have been more serious than most. But in these critical times when hemisphere solidarity is so desirable, even a minor war between American nations would be a cause for alarm. And a full-dress Peruvian-Ecuadorian war might have grave repercussions.

There has been more than one hint that Hitler's hand has been at work behind the scenes of this latest clash. In fact, a Peruvian congressman newly arrived in New York has very bluntly charged that Nazi agents were responsible for the dispute between the two nations.

It is evident that dissension and disunity in Latin-America would be pleasing to the Germans. A prompt patching-up of the Peru-Ecuador row would be a blow at Nazi hopes in the southern continent.

SAVING THE WHEAT

Should the Russians continue to hold back the Germans from the Ukraine for a few more weeks, much wheat will be prevented from falling into Hitler's hands. When Hitler's hordes thrust into the edge of the Ukraine, Stalin gave orders to the peasants to burn everything in the path of the invader. This included wheat fields.

But it was not possible for the peasants to do this in the western margin of the Ukraine because the wheat there is still green. But east of this section the cereal has ripened or is ripening daily and if the Germans could break through the Russian defenses and threaten an advance at this point, the peasants, under the burned earth policy adopted by Moscow, would have to put the torch to an expanse of wheat fields not surpassed in size anywhere on earth.

VACATIONERS ARE ON THE MOVE

Summer play time, which is a great American institution that is unaffected by wars, crises, or catastrophes, got away to a roaring start during the Fourth of July week-end. Ocean, lake, river, and mountain play spots were crowded as never before, and traffic on the highways was the heaviest ever experienced.

Booming industries incident to the defense program and the resultant boost to business generally, putting more money in the pockets of the populace, was responsible, of course, for the unprecedented holiday activity. All signs point to a summer of unprecedented play as well as work and there is no indication that the American intends to become a dull boy.

Gasoline consumption and tire sales are reflecting this stamped to the great outdoors. All national parks, it is predicted, will set new records of number of sightseers this summer. Total number of persons entering Yellowstone National Park has passed the 75,000 mark on June 15, which in former years was the opening day. Fewer persons entered this park in an entire season 20 years ago.

America is well and fortunately studded with water and mountain resorts. Containing within its terrain, all kinds of climate and terrain, the country is better equipped with vacation areas for the four seasons than any other land on the globe.

THE GREAT NEW ARMY

In the criticism of the nation's great new army in the making, now comprising more than 1,600,000 officers and men, there is more cause for gratification than for concern.

This criticism indicates that the task of building and equipping the largest peace-time army in America's history is not being carried on with 100 per cent efficiency. No reasonable person ever expected that there would be no faults and failures in such a task.

It is probably true that there are weak links in the chain of command, as alleged—that some of the officers are tied too tightly to the past, that others obtained their commissions through political favoritism and are lacking in capability.

It may be, as is charged, that in some respects training methods are defective, that equipment is not adequate and that maneuvers have demonstrated that plans are in many instances poorly conceived and inefficiently executed.

These criticisms would reflect a serious condition if efforts were being made to keep these causes for complaint from public knowledge or if nothing were being done about them. They are inevitable in a new army, built virtually from the ground up, and it would be extraordinary if glaring weaknesses did not exist.

What really matters is that something affirmative and definite is being done. The officer personnel is being sifted so that only those who are competent will remain; the lessons of maneuvers are being learned; adequate equipment is being furnished in ever-increasing volume, and, in general, the army is being attuned to the tempo of lightning war.

On at least one count the new army is not vulnerable to criticism. The enlisted personnel is recognized as being of unsurpassed quality, physically and mentally, and as lending itself admirably to development into as fine a military organization as the world has ever seen.

It is to be expected that there will be lapses, failures and weaknesses in the fulfillment of such a huge undertaking. But the fact is that the American army of 1941 is forging ahead, growing in power to meet effectively whatever challenge the future may hold.

Announcement that the War Department has gone on a 44-hour week, at least theoretically, indicates how seriously the situation is regarded in some quarters.

According to reports, men no longer have a monopoly on the taxi driving business since women are replacing the male drivers in many large American cities, including, incidentally, New York City.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph.D.

SPANKING HAS BENEFITS

Here are some statements on punishment, for your consideration: Wise parents probably find no need of saying NO to the child until he begins to creep or walk; nor to punish him earlier. They will rule out the voice as an instrument of punishment, reserving speech for expressions of endearment, for companionable communications, for giving and acquiring information.

The good old-fashioned spank employed early, thoughtfully, purposefully, is about the best means of teaching the meaning of NO, regard for the rights of others and respect for authority.

The first need of spanking is to train the child in safety in relation to a few definite, known constant dangers. Punishment to prevent harm to persons and property can well come later.

Meaning of NO

NO is best learned when it rarely is heard and when it always carries with it pain association as an alternative.

When a child is told NO twice in succession, to deter him from the self-same act, he has been lied to once, told that it was not really meant before.

Under skilful guidance, punishment won't be necessary to get the children to do a desirable act; only to deter him from wrong action.

In case punishment is employed only to deter, stubbornness won't be cultivated and the way will be cleared for furthering cooperation in the child.

Except in the few necessary routines, almost no commands, save a few negative ones, will be necessary. Instead, requests alone will suffice.

Punish Immediately

For the young child all punishments, to be effective, must immediately follow the act, and there must be no exceptions. What he was punished for once, he must be punished for always.

As soon as the child learns without doubt the meaning of NO, physical punishment (spanking) can well be abandoned when attention to a certain place to do nothing, such as sitting in a chair for exactly twenty (20) minutes, can be effectively substituted. This should be accomplished before the child is four or five years old.

Advantages to the Child
One of the strongest arguments for selective, purposive, and thoughtful spanking of the young child is that he may escape whippings and all other sorts of physical punishments later, and may also escape the tortures of his parents' tongues—besides learning the alphabet of safety and good citizenship.

A Prayer for Parents may be had by writing me at 235 East 45th Street N. Y. City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp.

Solving Parent Problems
Is it well to try to control the young child by pretending that his naughty deeds have made you cry?

A Though this procedure might seem effective for a while, it will fall eventually. Besides, it sets false standards for the child. He should learn that he alone shall suffer for his bad deeds.

Q. My sixteen-year-old daughter seems to go to young people's meetings and parties at and by the church just to be with the boys.

A. Splendid! Do encourage her to keep on going there, and the church to attract more girls and boys to these meetings and to have more parties for them.

The World and the Mud Puddles

RHYNS WILLIAMS.

New Castle people will remember Elizabeth Sowersby's portrayal of Queen Elizabeth in the Chicago and San Diego Expositions in connection with the production of Shakespeare's Plays given in what was known in the two Expositions as the Globe Theaters. Connected with that company, taking minor parts in the Shakespearean Plays was Rhys Williams.

Now both Elizabeth Sowersby and Rhys Williams are New Castle products. Elizabeth spent her girlhood in New Castle and Rhys spent his boyhood here. Elizabeth is not now appearing on any stage, but Rhys is and he is going from success to success.

Just now Walter Pidgeon is set for "How Green Was My Valley" and Rhys Williams is to be a part of that production. Williams is now known in the West as an actor, director and writer. During all the past season he played in "The Corn is Green" with Ethel Barrymore. Rhys has also recorded "How Green Was My Valley" on phonographic disks for the American Foundation for the Blind, to which Helen Keller devotes all of her time.

New Castle has no reason to be ashamed of the young men and women who go out into the world to make their name and fortune.

The Pennsylvania legislature cost the taxpayers $1,600,000 this year. We would rather have the money.

A man aged 80 years married a gal aged 27 in Massachusetts. He has been married three times and she never was married before. No doubt she will wonder why she ever got married.

Little Tokovitch was showing his father his school examination paper. English was the subject. One question was: "What is the difference between a stoic and a cynic?" "So what?" asked the father. "I don't think I could answer that myself. Did you?" "Yep, papa; of course. A stoic brings de baby, and de cynic is vot you vash it in!"

Woman's greatest asset is man's imagination.

One bird said to another "What keeps you up at all hours of the night?" The other replied "How do you know I am up late at night?"

A coal operator at Connellsville has gone into bankruptcy. He owes $373,225 and has only $65. He comes near owing himself money.

Only the words change. When grandma used soap and water, she was getting the dirt off instead of taking a beauty treatment.

A local bird says he got his ability to drink from his grandfather. He didn't inherit his thirst, he inherited his money.

Old maids always imagine there is a man in the house at night. But married women know better.

THE BIG WORM
Talkative Lady: "A big man like you might be better occupied than in cruelly catching little fish."

Fisherman: "Perhaps you're right lady. But if this fish had kept his mouth shut he wouldn't be here."

We read of a man 101 years old who never took a drink of water. He always drank home made wine. He must have a great constitution all right.

A local gal is going to marry an X-ray specialist. A neighbor said "What can he see in her?"

BELIEVE IT OR NOT
A railroad director rebuked a ticket collector for allowing him to go through the gate without showing his pass.

"No matter if you do know who I am," he told the collector, "you must insist on seeing my pass. You don't know whether I have it or not."

"Well," replied the nettled collector, "let's have a look at it."

The director reached into his pocket and then stammered, "here, why when, well, I'll be switched, must have left it at the office."

"In that case," said the collector firmly, "you'll have to pay your fare."

SALES PSYCHOLOGY

A certain salesman was proposing to his best girl. "And, sweetheart," he finished "I'll lay my whole fortune at your feet."

"It isn't a very big fortune," she reminded him. "I know dear," he replied. "But it'll look awfully big beside your little feet."

Senator Wheeler Bitterly Criticised
Keeps Hitler Informed On War Secrets
Others Refused To Be Muzzled On War

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler, entitled to be an isolationist. Nobody disputes it. But it's bitterly complained that he isn't entitled to give out, prematurely, military information, said to be of a sort to keep Herr Hitler posted.

That matter of an American base's establishment on Iceland is what's referred to. Burt heard of it before President Roosevelt told congress, and broadcast the news immediately. Winston Churchill let out a howl on the subject. The White House intimated that it agrees with Winston. Thereupon Burt served notice that he'll circulate such stories as fast as he hears 'em, adding that he isn't answerable to Winston Churchill.

While that row was still sizzling Senators Robert A. Taft and John A. Danaher popped up with the regular old premise. If it's fact, it's to the effect that we're establishing a base at the northern end of Ireland. No more than Burt Wheeler, they say, are they going to allow themselves to be muzzled.

Well, that's quite a revolt. As good isolationists as any of 'em, Senators Bennett Champ Clark, Hiram W. Johnson and Gerald P. Nye doubtless would have been in on it, only I suppose they didn't have anything to reveal prematurely.

Tinkham Balks

Now Representative George Holden Tinkham of Boston is leading a new variety of rebellion. Naturally it's new, for there's nothing backneyed about George Tinkham. He's as prominent as any senator in congress he's perfectly ferocious. Between sessions he goes to Africa to kill lions and rogue elephants. He has the fiercest set of whiskers in Washington—ex-Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes' set aren't a circumstance compared with George's.

I imagine the whole country's heard of the capital's congestion for governmental emergency office room. Uncle Sam's employees have vastly overflowed every square inch of his regular accommodations for 'em. He's been commandeering whole hotel floors, apartment houses and private residences for desk space to install 'em.

Finally he got around to the Dupont apartment structure, one of the classiest edifices of its kind in the District of Columbia. 12 stories high and checkful of senators', representatives' and miscellaneous awful nobby individuals' families.

Tenants Rebel

Taking over this building bodily, the government ordered all these tenants to vacate in a hurry. But about 60 households of 'em had leases. One was George Tinkham's. George organized 'em overnight into a solid block of resistance. They won't move. It'll pretty well (Continued On Page Seven)

Plans Complete For Convention

Young Democrats Of Four Counties To Gather Here
This WeekSESSIONS TO OPEN
ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Plans for the four county convention of Young Democrats which will be held here July 18 and 19 have been completed. Chairman Steve Wheale stated today and the program released today shows a continual round of activities ending with a dinner and dance in the Castleton hotel Saturday night.

The convention opens Friday night, July 18 in the Castleton with registration of guests and a meeting of the executive committee. Saturday morning at ten o'clock the convention sessions get under way. Chairman Wheale will open the session and introduce Daniel J. F. Flood of Wilkes-Barre, national committeeman of the Young Democratic Clubs of Pennsylvania who will act as permanent chairman. Mr. Flood will introduce Joseph J. Yosko, state president, who will address the guests.

Group Meetings
Following the general session, group sessions will be conducted with resolutions being considered, organization of new clubs, new registrations, revival of inactive clubs, ways and means of raising funds, promotion of social activities, and the consideration of a plan for the selection of delegates to the Young Democratic National Convention to be held in Louisville, Kentucky, August 21-22-23. Pennsylvania is entitled to 72 votes.

At noon there will be a luncheon in the Castleton in honor of Democratic county chairmen, vice chairmen and members of the Democratic State Committee.

The afternoon session will open at two o'clock with an address of welcome by Mayor Charles B. Mayne, followed by State Senator John H. Dent of Westmoreland county who will give a report on the legislative program of the present session of the General Assembly. Committee reports will be heard.

Congressman William R. Poage
Attorney Raymond W. Humphrey of Ellwood City will act as the toastmaster at the banquet in the evening at seven o'clock. The principal speaker will be Congressman William R. Poage of Texas, representing the Democratic National Committee.

Others invited to speak are State Chairman Meredith Myers, State Vice Chairman Miss Marie Bickert, National Committeeman David L. Lawrence, National Committeewoman Mrs. Emma Guffy Miller, Auditor-General F. Clair Ross.

The banquet at seven o'clock will probably be a complete sellout. One hundred tickets were allotted to Lawrence county and these have been sold for several days. Said State President Joseph Josko today, "inquiries have been received from members of the Young Democratic Clubs other than the regular committee members asking if they may attend the convention. The sessions will be open for all persons interested in the welfare of the Democratic party."

STEPS ON TACK
Billie June Crowe, aged 4 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Crowe of 1205 West Washington street, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 2:45 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for an injury to her foot, sustained when she stepped on a tack.

FOR YOUR VACATION

No matter where you go on your vacation, the trip will be incomplete unless you take with you a good Kodak. You will enjoy taking the pictures and you will be glad to have them after you come home. We would suggest a Vigilant or Jiffy Kodak or a Reflex Argus camera. Perhaps that old camera that you have had for years should be replaced with a new one. We will allow you a liberal trade allowance on it. Better trade it in for a really good camera.

MANY FRIENDS JOIN MAYOR TO OBSERVE SEVENTIETH BIRTHDAY

cal get-together. Each present, and the assembly included men, women and their children, had visited the site of the fete to pay their respects to a man who has and is yet endeavoring to better the lot of everyone in the city of New Castle.

Although His Honor had stated emphatically that he did not desire presents there were many who refused to harken to his "No presents, please" and many were received. And in addition there were telegraphic felicitations and letters of congratulations upon his table.

Huge bouquets of beautiful flowers lined the tables inside the large summer home of W. S. Moore. At the honor table sat His Honor, yes, somewhat tired from the strenuous day, yet happy because he knew that this was a day of cementing friendships.

Spontaneous Event
Had a torrential down-pour not occurred it is likely that 500 or more would have joined in celebrating His Honor's birthday. It was not an invitation affair, just one of those parties, or as the city's chief executive said: "I'm having a birthday party, everyone is welcome."

Charlie or "Bunt" as he is known to some older residents of the city has had a colorful career—one seldom enjoyed by most people. He was born in a dug-out on a Minnesota prairie, brought here when he was three years old and has always claimed this city as his residence.

He has been an adventurer. He has grub-staked for gold in Alaska, lived with Indians and while on the trails to and from his cabin in the wilds has had to travel by dog sled and live off food cached along the route.

Upon many occasions he has had to depend upon a fishin' rod and a trusty gun to secure his day's food. He worked as a miner in Montana and not only managed but also acted as business agent of large fruit concerns in Puerto Rico, Cuba and elsewhere.

Enters Politics
When he decided that it was time to cease adventuring and delving into odd corners of the western hemisphere, he decided to settle down. He was honored by fellow citizens by being elected as an alderman, councilman and is serving his second term as mayor.

Mayor Mayne also operates a successful bottling concern, recently having expressed his faith in the city over which he reigns by expending a neat sum on improvements. Another attribute is that he has always expressed the courage of his convictions.

It was his day, yesterday—his seventieth, mile along life's highway. The people generally wish him well and many more milestones. Before the assembly broke up on Wednesday a scroll, signed by each of the guests was presented to His Honor and a resolution attached to the scroll and read by City Clerk C. E. Brown caused the mayor deep emotion.

He was roundly applauded following which an appropriate response stating that this had been his happiest birthday. The resolution, attached to the scroll reads as follows:

Scroll Presented
July 16, 1941.
"The Honorable Charles B. Mayne, Mayor, City of New Castle, Pennsylvania, in the course of human events if one lives right (or otherwise), he will reach the wonderful age of seventy years and it gives one an opportunity to celebrate the event by being surrounded by the friends, neighbors and relatives one loves best.

To you, honorable Charles B. Mayne, we your guests of the occasion, feel signally honored by being included in your invitation to assist you in celebrating the glorious event, glorious, yes, to us, and we hope to you.

We your guests, take this occasion to congratulate you—not alone for having reached seventy of life's milestones, but for other reasons; for being an honored citizen of the City of New Castle and having lived a life of usefulness among us—for your kindness and consideration of your fellowmen, and your Maker could expect no more—and this alone takes in considerable territory. And we feel honored indeed in subscribing our names to this testimonial and for what it stands.

May God give you life, health and happiness for more years to come.

Resume Patrol Of Rivers To Get Gas Bootleggers

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.—After seven months in which both streams were left unguarded, the State Department of Revenue has resumed patrolling of the Delaware and Schuylkill to apprehend gasoline bootleggers.

The object is to make certain that the Pennsylvania four-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax is paid and state police are employed to man a new 42-foot twin motored launch which checks on the amount of oil and gasoline entering the commonwealth.

The tax is collected from the refineries, which pass it on to retailers who hand it to the public. The amount of the levy is determined by the amount of gasoline shipped to retailers as shown by the refineries' records. To make sure that no gasoline is shipped from the refineries surreptitiously, the state checks the number of gallons received with those dispensed.

Revenue department agents pointed out that small scale bootlegging by motor is rampant between New Jersey and Pennsylvania is virtually non-existent because bootlegging is profitable only on a large scale. The tax savings on 1,000 would be only $30, they said. The gasoline patrol was suspended last December because the only available motor boat broke down after 10 years of constant service.

Must Control Rents Declares Leon Henderson

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Rents must be controlled "in order to maintain the health and morale of the general civilian population," Federal Price Administrator Leon Henderson today told the House committee studying labor migration to defense areas.

Asserting that rents in many sections have been "sky-rocketing unjustifiably," Henderson said that "there is no question in my mind that ultimately the authority of law will have to be invoked to curb rent increases."

"If we fail to curb rent increases, we are contributing to the spiral of rising living costs, rising wages and still higher living costs, from which nobody stands to gain in the end," he added.

According to Henderson, a survey disclosed that rents under $30 per month are increasing by a higher percentage than those over $30, forcing a hardship "on the group which can least afford it."

(Special To The News)
CAMP FRED L. RENTZ, July 17.—Despite one of those good old-fashioned Slippery Rock creek downpours, Camp Rentz boys had the time of their lives in a "stunt night" celebration last night.

Not a soul was disappointed, for the rain itself was forgotten in the frolicsome antics which kept the whole camp entertained for some time. The dampness, however, kept down the visiting crowd.

Before the cloudburst came, Jack Sweazy, last year's champ, proved he's still the best when it comes to mosquito boat racing. Today, with the sun out, the regular camp games are on in full.

Pittsburgh Plans Milk Bill Fight

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 17. — Pittsburgh officials today planned to attack the Moul-Wooring milk bill through the courts should Gov. Arthur H. James lend his signature to the measure.

Mayor Cornelius D. Scully has already asked the city solicitor to study possible action on grounds of unconstitutionality. The mayor, in a telegram to the governor, declared that the bill subordinates public health to the interests of milk production and distribution. He declared that all city officials interested in child health were opposed to the measure.

Dr. I. Hope Alexander, city health director, termed the bill a "backward step" which might well result in an increased infant mortality rate.

Proposed Repairs
To Bridge Here
Are Badly Needed

Work May Get Under Way On East Cherry Street Bridge
In Months Time

Residents of the district believe that the plan to repair the East Cherry street bridge are badly needed at the present time. Much of the iron work needs repair as does the floor and the foundation. While the bridge is yet quite safe for travel, the repairs not made at this time, it would undoubtedly depreciate quite rapidly.

The county commissioners let the contract for the repairs earlier this week, and work will be started as soon as possible. The delay at the present time is in securing steel for the job, but as soon as a guaranteed delivery date can be secured for the materials, the work will be started, it was learned.

GARDENS ARE FEW ON CITY PLOTS

Increased employment can no doubt be blamed for the sharp decrease in the number of gardens planted in the city owned plots in the vicinity of the disposal plant on the Willow Grove road, just outside the Seventh Ward this year.

Many patches that have been cultivated and developed into fine gardens are standing idle this season.

GROUNDS ATTRACTIVE

The grounds surrounding the city disposal plant just outside the Seventh Ward on the Willow Grove road are exceptionally pretty this year. The lawns are well clipped and a pretty even green color, enhanced by beds of blooming flowers in various spots.

LINE REPAIRS

Repairs to the telephone lines on East Cherry street, near the intersection of North Liberty street, were made by servicemen on Wednesday afternoon.

Junior Club Plans
Camping Trip Soon

A special meeting of the Junior Girls club of Women's Benefit association, Review 89, was held at the L. F. Vatter home, West Madison avenue, Monday evening.

Purpose of the meeting was to complete plans for a week's camping trip to Conneaut Lake this summer. The junior supervisor, Mrs. Margaret O'Leary, notified each member of the club will be held at the home of Patsy Cushion, North Liberty street.

NO ARRESTS ARE

MADE IN DISTRICT

People in the Mahoningtown area evidently fall in the law abiding class of citizens, judging from the number of arrests made here.

No arrests have been made in months in the ward, and when arrests are necessary the police officers state that they are for but very minor charges.

Former Resident
Dies In Maryland

C. R. Simpson, 80, who was born in Mahoningtown and raised in this district, was buried in Brookhill (Md.) cemetery Tuesday afternoon, having passed away on July 13, in the Frederick, Md. City Hospital.

Mr. Simpson was educated in the Lawrence county schools, after which he went west as a member of a surveying corps, going as far north as Regina Canada, and as far south as Mexico. Besides his wife he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mark Parziale, New Market, Va., and Mrs. Jean Bennetts, Takoma Park, Md., and by three sons, J. F. Minor Simpson, Frederick, Md., Henry B. Simpson, of Fort Meade and Dr. William Hayes Simpson, Duke University.

Items of news intended for insertion in the Seventh Ward news column may be left at Solomon's News stand, North Liberty street. The items should be at the stand by 2 p. m., where a representative of The News will collect them.

REPAIRING STORE

Repairs are being made to the storeroom at the corner of West Cherry and North Lafayette streets. New weather boards are being placed on several portions of the building and the front steps are being rebuilt.

PETUNIA BED

The watchmen at the East Cherry street crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad have a fine looking bed of petunias blooming in the vicinity of the lookout tower. The flowers brighten up a place that would otherwise be drab and unattractive.

RAISE PIGEONS

Quite a number of Seventh Ward people raise pigeons here. Many pigeon lofts may be seen about the district and a flock of the birds may usually be seen flying about overhead.

HOUSE PAINTING

Many houses in the Seventh ward are being painted this season. There are quite a number of colors being used but white seems to be the most popular one this year.

BUILDING WALL

which, of course, was exactly what it was—and a true one, too. It was really a degrading exhibition all around, and does much to sustain the contention that this Administration is just afraid to buck the power of organized labor. By encouraging the defeat of a provision which would have declared in favor of mediation, the President's position certainly tends to sap the force of his own Mediation Board.

HOW can it help but do so? Here is the House, under leadership always obedient to the President, and under threats from the CIO, refusing to take a stand against strikes in defense plants, or for mediation of grievances. What kind of support is that to give a mediation board? What can anyone expect of a mediation board thus left out on the limb? What, under such circumstances, is the head of the CIO, which opposes mediation, doing? No wonder the board declines to adopt a fixed policy for handling strikes. It does not make sense. No matter how strongly the foreign policy of the President may be approved, it does not seem possible to condone the things he is doing or permitting to be done in the domestic field. All the German agents in America could hardly do as much damage to the cause of defense as Congress, the President acquiescing, did last week in these two incidents.

Rationing of other things than living quarters is beginning to be discussed on a scale to make the average consumer's hair curl.

Rationing of new autos isn't so bad, for a lot of used cars are available. Besides, it'll be a blessing to pedestrians to have the number reduced. Gasoline rationing will be fine, too, reducing the speed peril. Parenthetically, I'm a 100 per cent pedestrian. I've got a washing machine already. I use ice in my house instead of an electric refrigerator and I don't need any machine tools. So Uncle Sam can limit that kind of production to his heart's content, for all I care.

Roll Your Own?

But today it's hinted that we may have to resort to rolling our own cigars, to save on the power used by our big factories. Likewise suggested is a rationing of cork, required in liquid refreshments' bottlenecks. Such threats begin to look alarming.

By the way, George Miller, National Press club chief bartender advances the thesis that drinking beer out of tin cans is a patriotic act, because it releases that much tin for defensive purposes.

And prices of everything? Congress has deferred putting a legislative ceiling on 'em until fall. National Price Fixer Leon Henderson tries to keep 'em down by moral suasion, but they crawl upward in spite of him—What bothers congress is how to hit on a law that'll make salesmen go on selling, at a loss, maybe.

Anesthesia is a science.

The anesthetist plays an important role in surgery. His duties are many. He must know how to examine his patient.

He must know all the various types of anesthetics.

His sympathy and tact should gain the patient's confidence.

He must watch carefully his patient under the anesthetic.

Pulse, respiration, temperature, blood pressure are important.

The anesthetist must be resourceful in any emergency.

Before 1846, sufferers died rather than undergo operations.

Anesthesia now removes pain and makes surgery safer.

The anesthetist is an expert in his field.

CARL BENDER HURT
AS SCAFFOLD FALLS

Carl Bender of Lathrop street is in the Jameson Memorial hospital suffering with a wrenched back and injuries to the legs, sustained when a scaffold on which he was working on a house on 12th street, West Pittsburgh, gave way shortly before noon Wednesday.

Bender and Salvatore Palmer, employed by William Bender and Sons, were engaged in putting brick insulation on the home when the scaffolding gave way without warning. Palmer was thrown against the house, and was able to secure a hold and keep from falling, but Bender was hurled backwards, falling onto the porch roof and thence to the ground.

Bender's injuries are not believed to be serious, it is stated.

Girl Scouts Are Registering For Camp Next Month

Applications For Camp Should Be In Local Office As Soon As Possible

Many local Girl Scouts are now registering for the coming camping period, scheduled from August 10 to August 24, at the Lawrence County Boy Scout camp, near Rose Point.

Members of the camp committee state that numerous district girls desire to attend the camp this year, but the committee feels that the girls in the city should have the first opportunity.

For this reason, the local girls should register immediately in order that the committee will know how many plan to attend this season and thus they can make their plans accordingly.

Registrations are being accepted at the Girl Scout office, fourth floor of the Greer building.

School Funds To Be Paid Shortly

In a letter to the New Castle School Board read Wednesday night by Secretary John B. Bechtel, Dr. Edward B. Logan, budget officer of the commonwealth, stated that the appropriations due the New Castle School Board and which have been held up for some time, would soon be paid.

In the letter Dr. Logan apologized for the delay occasioned and said that the reason was due to the refusal of Democratic leaders to pass the tax anticipation note bill, earlier in the session of the general assembly.

The money should be coming through about July 28, the letter stated.

Kennedy says we can't force democracy on the world. We can't flood the world, either; but why argue when nobody dreams of doing it?

Assert British-American Plane Production Now Near 3,000 For Month

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 17.—American and British aircraft production this month will reach approximately 3,000 military planes, exceeding German output for the first time, high defense officials reported today.

American military observers abroad disclose that British air attacks on Axis aircraft factories and oil depots are having a telling effect on German efforts to maintain a high rate of plane production.

American officials expressed the belief that Prime Minister Winston Churchill's declaration that the time has come for Germany to suffer from the skies had behind it the confidence that American and British output of bombing planes will continue to surpass Nazi production.

Aviation spokesmen in Washington estimate that the number of American military planes coming off assembly lines in July will approximate 1,500, and will increase to 2,000 by September. Reports received from Britain indicate July production will be about equal.

Meanwhile, advices reaching the American government tell of damaging blows by the R. A. F. to aircraft and supply facilities in Germany and Axis dominated territory.

A recent compilation of air attacks in Europe issued by the British embassy revealed that oil plants and gasoline storage facilities had come in for considerable R. A. F. attention.

The embassy's review of British bombing attacks is supplemented by reports from American observers who have informed defense leaders that R. A. F. damage since the start of the Nazi-Russian war has been remarkably high.

These reports also disclose that Germany is experiencing some shortages in materials, and it is estimated that the Nazis have facilities to construct about 4,000 airplanes a month.

Constant hammering of supply lines, factories and other facilities related to aviation, these reports said, are preventing Germany from attaining this production potential.

Buy 4,000 Tons Of Coal For Schools

Board Takes Action At Meeting On Wednesday Night—Three Bidders

Four thousand tons of coal, or any part thereof, were contracted for by the New Castle school board Wednesday night at the regular monthly board meeting. The contract went to Maxwell & Gibson at their bid of $4.47 per ton for two-inch lump and $4.37 for nut coal.

Only three bidders presented prices, the other two being the Sweeney Coal company and the Fomelle Coal company. Asked as to what the coal situation was this summer, James R. Gibson explained to the board that most coal mining companies were sold to capacity and could not take on any new accounts but that in their case the mines supplying them would see that the schools got the coal due to the fact that Maxwell & Gibson have had the contract for several years. The prices quoted include the provision that if any legislative increases are made in the wages of miners the increase will be added to the contract price.

The board approved purchases of materials during the past month in the amount of $8,370.33. Two sets of stokers were authorized to be purchased from the William M. Clark company at a bid of $996.18. Scientific and chemistry supplies, divided among a number of companies were ordered purchased at a total price of $1030.80.

Two hundred gallons of liquid wax were ordered purchased from the Socomy-Vacuum company at their price of 96 cents per gallon.

Damage Suits Filed At Mercer

MERCER, July 17.—Norman J. Weaver, Hempfield township, has filed suit against James Reagle, Franklin, to collect $1,200 damages for injuries his son, William Weaver, suffered last September 11 when his bicycle was struck by Reagle's automobile.

Weaver claims that the chain came off his son's bicycle as he was riding along the Greenville-Hadley road, and that he was unable to stop it when he came to the intersection in the road. The collision that followed was the result of Reagle's careless driving, Weaver claims.

Raymond L. Mornewick, Perry township, filed suit to collect $10,000 from Harvey Heinrich, Cross Forks, Potter county, for injuries he suffered last September 9 when his car and Heinrich's machine collided in the Perry highway.

Practice With Giant Cannons For First Time

(International News Service)
CAMP FOREST, Tenn., July 17.—Gun crews of the 168th Field Artillery of the Colorado National Guard placed six 155mm cannon on the artillery range at Camp Forrest today for the U. S. Army's first actual shelling practice with 155's since World War I.

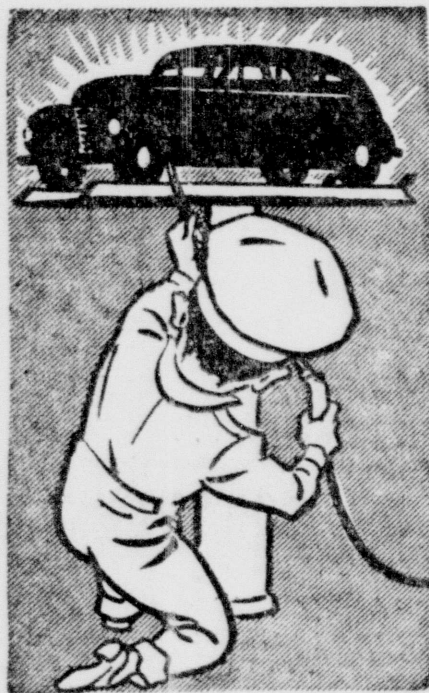

Three days ago the few guns possessed by the regiment for gun drill were filled out by a shipment of 18 of the monsters from the arsenal at Erie, Pa., and today's cannonade constituted the first time 155mm guns have been fired other than for proving since 1918.

Because the guns have not been fired in 23 years, the utmost precautions were taken to prevent accidents.

It required two days of grinding work to get the 29,500-pound guns to the range, hauled at a three-and-one-half mile per hour crawl by huge tractors.

Ammunition used in the firing practice was World War stock. It will carry the high explosive projectiles some 17,500 yards, extreme range. With latest type ammunition, the modern 155's will have a range of 33,000 yards.

Finnish Air Forces Claim Big Success

(International News Service)
HELSINKI, July 17.—Widespread successes by the Finnish air force in bombing enemy artillery and troop concentrations were reported today in an official communique which credited Finnish fighters and anti-aircraft batteries with shooting down 136 Soviet planes since the start of hostilities.

Eleven Finnish planes were lost, it was said.

The communique declared: "The air force has given effective support in the operations of our land forces. Enemy railway lines, transport, armored trains, cars, camps and ships convoys have been subjected to intensive bombing."

"Railway lines have been cut off in many places by direct hits, with trains derailed and troop columns dispersed. A number of trains and armored cars were set afire."

"Dive bombers scored several direct hits on enemy artillery and defense lines. Heavy bombing attacks were carried out on the Mursmaki railway. Numerous air battles have been fought resulting in victory for us, practically without exception."

"Since the beginning of the war up to this morning, our air force and anti-aircraft batteries shot down 136 enemy planes, damaging a considerable number of others."

"Anti-aircraft units have taken an effective part in land operations since the beginning of the war. Eleven of our aircraft have not returned to their bases."

He refused to say, however, whether his statement meant that compulsory methods would be instituted to force oil and gas economies because of a threatened shortage along the eastern seaboard.

He declared that Canadian officials were very wise in "taking time by the forelock" in ordering a ban on sale of gasoline in Canada from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. but he said that the Canadian action "doesn't mean anything as far as we are concerned or doesn't mean that he will follow the same plan."

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes today declared that the people of the country haven't "fallen into line as fast as I hoped in effecting savings of gasoline and oil."

He refused to say, however, whether his statement meant that compulsory methods would be instituted to force oil and gas economies because of a threatened shortage along the eastern seaboard.

He declared that Canadian officials were very wise in "taking time by the forelock" in ordering a ban on sale of gasoline in Canada from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. but he said that the Canadian action "doesn't mean anything as far as we are concerned or doesn't mean that he will follow the same plan."

WASHINGTON, July 17.—A gold miniature of the Liberty Bell today was promised Lee Witney, Massachusetts defense council director, by Dr. Arnold C. Marts, Pennsylvania director, if this state fails to donate more aluminum per capita than the Bay State.

Accepting a challenge by Witney that Massachusetts would lead the 13 original colonies in the aluminum scrap campaign which begins July 21, Marts replied:

"If you collect more aluminum per capita in Massachusetts than we do in Pennsylvania, I will present you with a gold replica of the Liberty Bell which rang out its message of human freedom in Philadelphia."

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Under Secretary of War Patterson disclosed today that more changes in the army command will be forthcoming, following the "shake-up" of seven high ranking generals and other officers announced yesterday.

Patterson said the shuffling of the army command was simply to "assign general officers to duties in which it is believed they will perform most effectively." He indicated that in following out this policy, the re-assignment in general would continue throughout the United States and its possessions.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Under Secretary of War Patterson said today that the case of Seaman Joseph Doyle is under consideration by the labor section of the department.

Doyle, a seaman aboard the Army Vessel Ancon, resigned his membership in the National Maritime union after protesting Communist infiltration into the organization, and was refused his berth on the vessel afterwards.

Patterson could not say whether the army's action in granting what amounts to a closed shop to the N MU aboard the vessel was contrary to policy followed on army transport vessels and maritime commission ships.

Patterson professed very little familiarity with the Doyle incident and said he did not know how soon final action on the case can be expected.

Marie Stevens, aged 16, of 608 West State street, has been missing since July 6, according to her father, Carl Stevens. She is five feet nine inches tall, weighs 115 pounds and has a dark complexion. When last seen she wore a dark blue dress, tan hosiery, blue colored shoes with holes in the end.

John Neugebauer, 529 Haus avenue, reported to City police today that en route from this city to Pittsburgh a billboard containing important papers had been removed from his auto.

When city council convened today in the municipal building, Councilman William H. Dunlap introduced a bill vacating Pottery street in the Sixth ward. The bill calls for any damages which may be assessed, to be paid by the city then collected from the Shenango Pottery company. The bill was sent to, then reported favorably from committee and will be printed, following which council indicated the measure would be adopted as an ordinance.

Oldsmobile, manufacturer's number F673848 and motor number F921059, was reportedly stolen from the car yard of the Chevrolet-Keystone company.

When Mayor Charles B. Mayne rapped his gavel today calling council together, Councilman D. O. Davies, in behalf of city employees, owing to Wednesday having been the mayor's seventieth birthday, presented him with a box containing a "gift." When the mayor opened the box he found a score or more pencils, 1 1/2 inches in length. They are the length he uses. "They are thankfully received and will be used," His Honor stated with a smile.

Second ward firemen were called to Leasure avenue, near Delaware, at 2:45 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when insulation on electric wiring caught fire from a tree, which had rubbed the wires bare, and burned off a section stretching between two poles. Firemen notified the Pennsylvania Power company who took care of the situation.

Heine Is Charged With Espionage During Last Year

DETROIT, July 17.—A copy of a federal indictment against Edmund C. Heine, one of 29 persons accused of espionage against the United States, disclosed that Heine was specifically charged with espionage in July and August of last year.

The indictment, contents of which were learned during Heine's scheduled arraignment before U. S. Commissioner J. Stanley Hurd, asserted that:

On or about August 12, 1940, Edmund Carl Heine contacted a representative of the Firestone Steel Products company at Akron, O., in furtherance of the conspiracy.

A second count asserted that: "On or about July 2, 1940, he mailed a letter at Detroit containing certain information in furtherance of a conspiracy to communicate and deliver to the German Reich, documents, code books, signal books, sketches, photographs, plans, models, books and other information relative to the national defense of the United States."

The arraignment on a fugitive warrant, asking Heine's return to New York to face the indictments, was delayed until tomorrow to give relatives an opportunity to post a $25,000 cash bond under which Heine has been held since his arrest at his home in suburban Detroit on June 30.

Twenty-eight youths, employed as caddies at golf courses, today were gathered in by city police because of their noise while "thumbing rides" in North Jefferson street and Wilmington avenue. Mayor Charles B. Mayne warned the caddies that "hitch-hiking" must stop. The police acted following complaints that the boys' noise disturbed the neighborhood.

Tells Lindbergh To Return Medal

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 17.—Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes today called upon Col. Charles A. Lindbergh to return to the Nazis the medal he had received from the German government as the cabinet officer again attacked the famous flyer for preaching "appeasement and disunity" in the United States.

"If Col. Lindbergh was an upstanding American," Ickes declared at a press conference, "he would have returned the decoration long ago, regardless of how, where, or when he got it."

Urges Motorists To Drive Without Using Their Horn

Experiments Prove Motorists Can Improve Driving Technique

(International News Service) MANSFIELD, O., July 17.—Driving 500 miles without a single toot of an auto horn is about to join the ranks of "noble experiments."

Frank Beverstock, secretary of the Richland County Auto Club, attacked careless horn blowing as the "greatest single source of needless noise" and urged that all Mansfield and Richland county motorists try to drive 500 miles without a single toot.

Beverstock said he was informed by the Washington, D. C., auto club that in every case where the auto horn was removed from a car, the driver improved his driving habits and greater safety to all resulted.

He declared that if his proposal met with acceptance, and all motorists would try the 500-mile test, "speeds will be reduced, greater care will be exercised by motorists, especially at intersections, and stop signs and traffic signals will be observed more carefully."

He listed horn blowers of three classes: Frantic horn blowers; "generally the earmark of a frightened driver or the sign of a bully when directed at pedestrians."

Those who blow at the auto ahead when delayed: "a little guy trying to act big."

Those who blow at anything and everything: "the mind should be examined thoroughly before such a motorist is allowed behind the wheel."

Beverstock said that fines of $5 to $25 imposed at Memphis, Tenn., had resulted "very satisfactorily." He recommended that police arrest motorists who blow their horns needlessly.

STILL GOING STRONG

(International News Service) WASHINGTON—About one-third of all motor vehicles ever manufactured in this country are still in regular operation, it has been estimated, with the value of the average car in operation placed at $200.

Thin Diplomatic Thread Now Links Germany And U. S.

Reports Germany Plans To Close Embassy At Washington Shortly

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 17.—Belief prevailed in official quarters today that the United States and the Axis powers are reluctant to sever until absolutely necessary the thin thread of diplomatic relations that still links the governments of Washington, Rome and Berlin.

State department officials professed ignorance concerning reports that Germany is about to close up its embassy in the United States and withdraw the remainder of the Nazi diplomatic mission from this country.

Now that all German and Italian consular authorities have been forced to leave the United States, Berlin and Rome must rely solely on Dr. Hans Thomsen and Don Ascanio Colina, as "listening posts" in Washington. If the German charge d'affaires and the Italian ambassador were to ask for their passports the Axis would be forced to rely on neutral sources in America to handle any matters that might arise.

As a general rule, the world's largest nations prefer to retain diplomatic ties with other powers as long as possible, once diplomatic relations are broken, it is always a long process to restore them. State department officials cited the fact that it took nearly fifteen years before the United States and the Soviet restored official relations.

Meanwhile, the American government abruptly rejected a verbal protest lodged by Thomsen who complained that two Nazi consuls should have been given more time to leave the country. Thomsen protested the state department's refusal to grant additional time to Fritz Wiedemann, consul at San Francisco, and Dr. Johannes Borchers, consul at New York, who missed a steamer sailing for Japan.

Disinfectants In Garbage Cans Is Fatal To Swine

Canton Council Passes Ordinance Against Practice Of Ohioans

(International News Service)
CANTON, O., July 17.—Officials of the city of Canton threaten to prosecute householders who persist in disinfecting their garbage cans.

Disinfectants are fine in their way, the officials said, but the ordinance against using them in garbage cans was passed for a definite reason. The city has a contract with the Canton Hog Ranch Co., which disposes of the city's garbage collections.

Twenty hogs were poisoned within a few days at the Ranch, probably as the result of too-thorough cleaning on the part of too-conscientious housewives.

WASHINGTON—Navy life is dogged tough on a dog.

That's the advice Capt. F. E. M. Whiting, director of the Bureau of Navigation's recruit division, gave Charles D. Nielsen who wanted permission to take along his dog when he applied for enlistment at the Minneapolis, Minn., recruiting station.

Lt. Comdr. Douglas Fox, in charge of the station, turned over Nielsen's request to the Bureau of Navigation at Washington. Rear Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, chief of the bureau, explained that having dogs in the

SECOND DRAFT LOTTERY TO TAKE PLACE TONIGHT

Will Give Draft Call Numbers

Lottery To Determine Order
Of Call Of Twenty-One
Year Old Registrants

EARLY INDUCTION
FOR SOME IS SEEN

By ARTHUR F. HERMANN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 17.—

Eight hundred little salmon colored capsules held the center of the stage today as the nation prepared for its second peace time draft lottery which will inform the country's newest crop of manhood tonight when they will begin a year's service with Uncle Sam.

The capsules contain the serial numbers which high government executives, army and navy commands, congressmen and even draftees themselves will start drawing from the famous gold fish bowl at 7 p. m. (EST).

They will classify in order the 750,000 youths who have reached the age of 21 since the first drawing last Oct. 29. The lottery, to be held in the departmental auditorium, will be a miniature duplication of the original event when more than 15,000,000 registrants between the ages of 21 and 36 were assigned their sequence numbers for induction into the army.

Take About Two Hours
Tonight's drawing will be completed in about two hours as contrasted with more than 16 hours required to draw the 9,000 numbers in the October lottery.

The non-inflammable capsules will be poured into the bowl shortly before drawing time and stirred with a paddle made from a rafter of Independence Hall, Philadelphia. Ceremonies will be opened by an address from Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, deputy selective service director.

After being blindfolded by Col. Charles Morris, U. S. A., retired, who officiated in the world war draft and the first peacetime lottery, Secretary of the Navy will dip into the big glass bowl and draw the first capsule.

Under the formula to "sift" the new registrants into remaining rolls of their local draft boards, all persons who have been assigned this number will be the first one integrated into local rolls.

Assistant Secretary of War Robert Patterson, Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, Rear Admiral Chester Nimitz, chief, naval bureau of navigation, Sen. Reynolds (D) N. C., chairman, senate military affairs committee; Rep. May (D) Ky., chairman, house military affairs committee and 12 representatives of veterans' organizations will draw the next numbers.

Fifty non-commissioned officers, who entered the army via the draft route, will then draw the numbers in batches of 25 until the last capsule is taken out of the bowl.

Selective service officials estimate that the first of the 21-year-olds figuring in tonight's drawing will be inducted in September. They said it is almost a certainty that all of the 750,000 youths who are physically fit will be placed in the army during the next year, in conformity with the requests for younger men.

Camp Chatter At East Brook

Pitter-patter went the raindrops on the roof of Camp East Brook Monday night, but that didn't spoil the campers' fun. Everyone rose and found the sun gradually seeking its highest point.

The sports classes were a howling success. Volley ball seemed to be the leading sport, with ping pong close behind. Lakewood was the winner over Harbor.

As the day grew warmer the girls filed down Aqua Lane and received their morning swimming instructions from "Skipper."

Bang, bang, bang went the skillets in the afternoon because the gracious mother of Lucille Gladstone sent a treat of cookies for the whole camp. This skillet bell is a warning that there is a treat in store for everyone at the dining room.

Swimmers, ping-pongers, volleyballers and the like could be seen rushing to the sound. Of course, this was all a surprise to the camp director. That's what you call "pulling one over on Twink."

Bingo was the main diversion of the evening. Peanuts were given to each winner and a grand prize went to Margaret Muir. The bingo games were interspersed by dancing to popular music. Everything went grand until "Pan" and "Scottie" got the giggles and "Chirp" came to the rescue.

"Kit" was the leader of the "good night" worship. This was concluded with the usual bedtime song and all the little campers fell off into pleasant dreams.

Two Night Hawks Collide In Air

When the heavens were heavy with rain clouds a few evenings ago, seven night hawks were flying over the roof of the Highland Avenue school.

These birds were very active in their insect hunting, as the clouds forced the insects to fly at a low altitude. While watching the hawks, in their zeal, seeking food, an unusual sight happened. Owen Fox states that two of the birds collided in mid-air with such force it caused them to drop over 10 feet before they regained their equilibrium and control of their wings when they again soared away to continue their quest. The birds doubtless nest upon the roof of the school.

These acrobats of the sky keep up their aerial flight from dusk to darkness, says Mr. Fox, until an evening about the first of September. their clan will gather above a large field and wing away through the night to the warm southland.

DRAFT ARMY OF LARGER SIZE IS ASKED IN U. S.

But, he added, the present congressional limit on having 900,000 draftees in service at one time should be lifted.

The legislation to keep draftees in service, Gen. Marshall said, should be enacted by August 1, adding that the army must soon begin to pull troops back from Alaska and Hawaii unless the legislation is passed.

Lift 900,000 Limit
Sen. Austin (R) Vt., asked Gen. Marshall if his statement that the nation would be endangered by refusal of congress to keep the army intact applied to lifting the 900,000 limit.

"I think it would," said Gen. Marshall. "I must say this, though, that the twelve-month limitation at the moment is the most serious." Disclosing that he had made his original recommendation to congress without consulting President Roosevelt, Gen. Marshall said:

"I made the report purely on the basis of military necessity. I made it without knowledge of the commander-in-chief—that is, the president. I submitted it to the secretary of war at the same time it was given to the press."

"I did it as a matter of military necessity, keeping as widely separated as possible political considerations and military necessity."

"I did express the view that the national interest was imperiled. That state of affairs had been in existence for some weeks—perhaps two months—and that there could be no further delay in recommending action. I urged that a national emergency be declared."

Gen. Marshall grimly warned of potential danger to the country.

"The situation is grave," he said. "We are on a time schedule. We have seen nation after nation go down by negative action until the guns have been turned on them."

"It is not in the public interest to state all we know. It might produce something like the sinking of the Maine in the Spanish-American war or the Zimmerman note (in the World War) and we must not do that."

In denying that he sought to create a second A. E. F. when he asked for removal of legal restrictions against sending draftees and guardsmen beyond the western hemisphere, Gen. Marshall said his report to the secretary of war had been misinterpreted.

"The reaction of the press, which has a great influence on the public," he said, "gave the point of view that I was talking about an A. E. F. which was absurd."

"It is merely a question of readiness for service. I was not thinking of an A. E. F., inferentially or otherwise."

SEE POSSIBLE BREAK IN LEGISLATION ON REAPPORTIONMENT

unless they break a custom which has stood for the test of time, said Rep. Homer S. Brown (D) Allegheny, house constitutional authority.

It will now be impossible for either house to recess for more than a day unless another resolution is passed reconsidering the vote on final adjournment, said Brown, who is also chairman of the judicial general committee. Brown said he could not recall ever having heard of such action being taken by a legislature.

In order to continue operating on "Tuesday", both houses again recessed early today for what were officially termed "15-minute" sessions. The senate is to meet again at 10 a. m., the house at noon (E. S. T.).

If the house approved the senate motion on congressional reapportionment, then the house and senate conferees will amend the Wade bill, which has been approved by both houses with amendments. Sen. M. Harvey Taylor (R) Dauphin, one of the conferees, stated:

"If the House fails to do so, or takes no action, the situation will remain the same, for neither House has discharged its conference committee from further consideration of the bill. In fact, Senator George N. Wade (R) Cumberland, chairman of the Senate conferees, announced that another meeting of the full committee would be held at 9 a. m. (E. S. T.)."

One other action was taken by the Senate, when the Senate conferees on a House measure barring Communists from the relief rolls reported they could not reach an agreement and were discharged. However, Representative Robert J. Lackawanna, the bill's sponsor, predicted the Senate would not recede from its stand and the bill would go to the governor. Two other measures barring Communists from the ballot and from public employment are already on the governor's desk.

House Takes No Action

The House took no action during the day, other than to recess from time to time while waiting for the Senate. Shortly after midnight today a Democratic caucus was held, but as no decision could be reached on final adjournment, the leaders told the members to return for another session. Many legislators, however, left the caucus owing to no home, complaining that it had been the understanding that the legislature would adjourn finally Wednesday. One-fourth of the senators and many assemblymen have already left.

Statements and counter-statements were flung about the Senate chamber during the debate over congressional reapportionment, with charges that the leaders of both parties were "selling out" their colleagues.

U. S. Senator Joseph P. Guffey, in a telegram to Senator Bernard B. McGinnis, Allegheny county Democratic chairman, denied assertions previously made that he was opposed to redistricting the state.

"Statements have been made to the effect that I am opposed to reapportionment," he wired. "Such rumors are based upon misinformation or are deliberate falsehood. During my entire political career I have been in favor of reapportionment. I am in favor of reapportionment now and the legislature, in my opinion, should not adjourn without legislation for reapportionment in accordance with the census of 1930."

McGinnis told the Senate that Democratic National Committee member David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh had informed him "that he felt we should remain in session until we reach an agreement."

Senator Harry Shapiro of Philadelphia, Democratic floor leader, made a vigorous defense of John B. Kelly, Philadelphia city Democratic leader, who was again attacked by Senator Leo C. Mundy (D) Luzerne. Dr. Mundy also stated that Gov. Arthur H. James had at one time agreed to the adoption of the Democratic plan for congressional reapportionment in return for other concessions. Majority Leader James A. Geltz (R) Allegheny, said he knew of no such agreement.

Senator Edward J. Coleman (D) Lackawanna, suggested a coln be taken to see whose reapportionment plan should be adopted, but Senator John M. Walker (R), Allegheny, had earlier stated that the Democrats had refused to accept such a proposal.

Senator Weldon B. Heyburn (R), Delaware, reported that no agreement had yet been reached by House-Senate conferees on revision of the unemployment compensation laws, but hopes were still expressed that a settlement could finally be had.

Today's War Developments

It was indicated that the British had succeeded in their aim of drawing Luftwaffe units from the eastern to the western front. Raiding royal air force squadrons encountered more and better Nazi planes. Still further east, Japan was rocked by the wholesale resignation of the cabinet of Prince Konoze, and it was guessed in Chinese circles that this move presaged the start of a new Japanese policy—perhaps a lining-up with ally Germany against ally Russia to block the Siberian port of Vladivostok before leasehold supplies from the United States could enter there.

It was considered likely that the emperor would ask Prince Konoze to head a new cabinet with army and navy representatives in the majority of its members.

The Russian communiqué issued Thursday afternoon (Moscow time) was silent regarding Smolensk, whereas an earlier announcement had admitted heavy fighting in the Smolensk region.

Merely Heavy Fighting

The latest Soviet high command statement said merely that heavy fighting occurred during the night in the region of Pskov and Porkhov—and that the western "no important developments on the front."

According to the Germans, the Russians defended Smolensk at "all costs" while the German casualties were termed "extraordinarily low".

While huge numbers of German and Russian troops battled up and down the eastern front and their high commands argued over the progress of the fighting, Italy moved suddenly to hold American consular agents and their families on Italian soil for several more days.

The ousted American officials were aboard a train which was halted yesterday at San Remo, near the Italy-French border. Today the Italian foreign office informed the American embassy in Rome that the train would have to remain in Italy for several more days—in compliance with a request of the German government. The train had been en route from Rome to Lisbon in neutral Portugal.

Yesterday the Italian foreign office said the train had been halted because of the delay in departure from New York of the transport West Point with axis consular and propaganda agents ousted from the United States. Today, however, the West Point was reported several hundred miles at sea.

Today the Italian foreign office declared arrangements would be

Castle Five To Have Reunion In Form Of Dinner

Alec Samuels Instrumental In Getting Old Basketball Players Together

WON 99 GAMES IN SIX YEARS

Those thrilling last few seconds shots that plopped in the basket to give the old Castle Five team many a victory over a six-year period will be re-lived again on Sunday evening, July 27, at The Castleton hotel dining room, when the members will gather for their first reunion. The dinner will start at 6.30 o'clock. It was announced by Alec Samuels, chairman, today.

The Castle Five gave the fans of New Castle some real basketball back 14 or 15 years ago and some of the players left the Castle Five to star in their respective colleges. The boys have often talked about the idea of a banquet at The Castleton to start the ball rolling. It is hoped that all who possibly can will try and be present.

Three Members Deceased

The following members of the Castle Five at various times still living are "Wege" Gankinger, Andy Hartman, Joe Hartman, Robert Hamilton, Harry Offutt, Dr. Jud Hess, C. (Bub) Jones, Dave "Mutt" Russell, Jimmy Stone, Ray Nolte, Gus Slavovsk, Tommy Williams, Billy Hood, Johnny Kraft, George Patterson, Attorney Johnny Ray, Steve Volesko, George Hice, Jack Hope and Charles Ross. Three members of the Castle Five are deceased, Ben Hanlon, Charles Gillum and Herb Kroen.

The Castle Five organized in 1929 and disbanded in 1936, and during this stretch of years played 120 games and won 99 and lost 21, for a very enviable record. The majority of the games were played on foreign floors, with the best teams in western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio.

Joe Rick was the sponsor of the team and Harry Day acted as coach. Day is former New Castle "Y" physical director, now in Sewickley. Ralph Gardner also at one time coached the Castle Five.

Yankees Wallop Cleveland 10-3

Joe DiMaggio Gets Three Hits To Run Streak To 56 Games, Yanks Increase Lead

By PAT ROBINSON

(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, July 17.—The phone on Ed Barrow's desk rang insistently this morning. The Yankee president picked up the receiver and barked:

"Barrow speaking. What's on your mind?"

"The voice on the other end said: 'I want you to reserve two seats for me back of the Yankee dugout.'"

"But the Yanks are on the road now, playing in Cleveland," said Barrow. "When do you want them for?"

"Yeh, I know that," said the other guy. "But I want to reserve two right now for the opening game of the world series."

Barrow assured him he couldn't take any reservations now and anyhow, it's a long way to the end of the pennant race.

Well, you can't blame the guy at that, especially after what the Yanks did to the Indians yesterday. They moved into Cleveland leading by four games. A clean sweep for the Indians would put them right back in the fight for the lead.

DiMaggio Keeps Going

And what happened? The Yanks turned on the heat and walloped them, 10 to 3, and probably put a damper on every fan in Cleveland. And they did it in the usual Yankee style with sheer power predominating.

Joe DiMaggio helped himself to three hits to run his streak through 56 games at the expense of Al Milnar and Kraskauskas. Charley Keller weighed in with a triple and his 20th home run. And Buddy Rosar teed off for a single and a brace of doubles. That kind of hitting made life easy and pleasant for young Alfy Donald and that raucous roar you may have heard on your radio last night wasn't static—it was a wild whoop from Oscar Vitt out on the coast. Oscar, you'll remember, is the ex-Cleveland manager.

Meanwhile, Cecil Hughson, a recent arrival from Louisville, was holding the White Sox to four hits to score a 2-1 decision for the Red Sox. It was his third straight win since reaching the big time. And Bob Muncie, another rookie, pitched the Browns to an 11-2 victory over the Athletics and had his task made easy on a homer by Judnich and two more by Laabs, the three wallopers being good for seven runs.

Pirates-Braves Split

Over on the other wheel the Pirates took a free-hitting affair from the Braves, 13 to 5, after dropping the first game, 4-1.

The Giants put the rollers under Bucky Walters to trim the Reds, 7-4. Bucky didn't have his usual stuff in this one but wretched support made him appear worse than he actually was.

In a free-hitting contest, Chicago turned back the Phillies 9-5 in a night game at Philadelphia. Root, the Cubs' winning hurler, blasted a homer in the second and his battery mate, Clyde McCullough, hit for the circuit with two aboard in the third inning.

And before a sell-out crowd of 32,265 in Brooklyn, the St. Louis Cards went on a five-run spree in the sixth inning to turn in a 7-4 win over the Dodgers. Whitlow Wyatt, seeking his 14th win, had a 4-2 lead behind him when he cracked in the fatal sixth.

A meeting to decide the first round games in the State Semi-Pro Baseball tourney will be held at Vandergrift Friday evening. Sixteen of the state's leading teams have been entered. In order to take care of teams and give the state a greater representation, Commissioner F. R. Swast, Jr., of Apollo, believes he could use a few adjoining fields to play off first and second round games. Applications of teams will be accepted at the meeting.

Youth Drowns While Fishing

Lorin Reiher, 17, Loses Life In Deep Hole Near McConnell's Mills Today

SLIPS OFF ROCK; BODY RECOVERED

ELLWOOD CITY, July 17.—Lorin Reiher, aged 17 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Reiher of 621 Lawrence avenue, was drowned in Slippery Rock creek about 7:45 o'clock this morning, when he slipped into the treacherous waters of the creek while fishing. His body was recovered at 9:20 o'clock this morning by the Ellwood City rescue squad.

James McNutt, a companion of Reiher's, proved himself a hero when he rescued the drowned youth's father, who had gone to the rescue of his son, who could not swim, and was dragged into the water by the struggling youth. McNutt was unable to save his companion, however.

Mr. Reiher, his son Lorin, and McNutt had left Ellwood City early this morning on a fishing trip. The accident occurred shortly after they had reached McConnell's Mills. The youth was fishing from a rock about a hundred yards above the dam, when he slipped into the water.

Coal Miners At Zelienople Form Union

Election To Be Sought Is Announcement Of Leader—Pickets Are Fined

ZELIENOPLE, July 17.—This town continued late yesterday playing its role as a miniature battleground for the C. I. O. United Mine Workers of America and a newly formed independent union of miners headed by Jack Linhart.

Linhart announced last Saturday he would appear soon at the Pennsylvania Labor Relations board's Arbitration office here as head of a committee of five to ask for an election by 125 employees of the Shirley Gas Coal company's strip mine near Zelienople. Board attaches said yesterday Linhart had not yet appeared.

Four men accused of stoning coal trucks in a C. I. O. picketing drive at the Shirley works and a nearby strip mining plant owned by Robert Cunningham and his son, James Cunningham, known as the "C. & S." mine, were fined $10 each at a hearing before Justice of the Peace William A. Crawford.

The defendants, William Eppinger, Frank Sanapes, William Hill and Michael Brenner, were represented by Attorney Arthur L. McLaughlin, Jr., former U. M. W. A. counsel and more recently acting for the C. I. O. Steel Workers Organizing Committee. McLaughlin was told by Squire Crawford that "we are not going to tolerate disturbance of the peace by these men."

A contract covering 52 miners in another strip coal works near Zelienople, operated by the Old Furnace Coal company, was signed late yesterday by the United Mine Workers, Vice President John P. Busarella announced. Busarella and P. T. Fagan, district president, signed for the union. For the company, J. H. Johnson and Oscar W. Riley, owners, signed the agreement, which runs to April 1, 1943.

"This is the first contract we have ever had with Old Furnace," Busarella said. "We haven't yet finished our task at the Shirley and Cunningham mines but we are going right ahead organizing them and will soon have them signed up."

Market Trend Is Irregular

Most Price Changes Are Small And Trading Is Dull Today In Market

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 17.—The stock market displayed an irregular trend in the wake of yesterday's reaction. Most price changes were small and trading was dull.

A case snapped back over 2 points after yesterday's tumble.

Standard of N. J. was a weak spot and down over a point at its low, on profit-taking induced by its recent extensive rise. Other oils did little.

There was some pressure on steels and coppers from the start but changes were fractional.

Allied was a firm favorite. Rails were inclined to sag. Pullman was strong in the rail equipment. Utilities were steady. General Motors was easy. American Telephone rights were less active than yesterday.

STOCK PRICES AT ONE P. M.

BOMBHELL FOUND

MEADVILLE, Pa., July 17.—Meadville residents felt easier today than they have since the Fourth of July, when a 16-inch bombshell packed with dynamite, disappeared during the city's celebration.

Authorities immediately issued a warning, but no traces of the bombshell had been found until a line-man for the Pennsylvania Electric company discovered it buried beneath a pile of telephone poles. Police at once took charge of the piece of "innocent-looking" fireworks and stored it away safely—about five feet under water.

Several Suspects In State College Attacks Are Held

Several Other Suspects Have Been Questioned And Released By Authorities

(International News Service)
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., July 17.—State police admitted today they were keeping several persons under surveillance in connection with the attempted attack on Miss Katherine Breen, 21, on a darkened street late Tuesday night.

Several other suspects already have been eliminated, police announced after 36 hours investigation into the fourth case of molestation in Centre county in the past five months.

Major Charles C. Keller of the state motor police returned to Harrisburg after assigning Detective Charles J. Hanna, Greensburg, and Privates James Griffith and Andrew Royko, Rockview Barracks, to continue the search for Miss Breen's assailant.

The latest attack in State College and nearby Bellefonte brought to 13 the total number of women molested since December. In each case the assailant stole up from behind, struck his victim and fled, leaving no clues.

Meanwhile, apprehension over the disappearance of two State College girls, Dorothy June Bechtel, 15, and Isabelle Albright, 19, was dissipated when the pair was found walking along a railroad track near the town. They explained they were out on all night duties and "were afraid to come home."

Plans Being Made To Build Several Aluminum Plants

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 17.—Secretary of the Interior Ickes today revealed at a press conference that the Aluminum Company of America, which Ickes has bitterly attacked as a monopoly, has agreed to operate government-owned aluminum plants.

Warns Mahoning Steel Mills' Peril, Urges Reservoirs

WASHINGTON, July 17.—A C. Cummins of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Co. at Youngstown, O., urged the construction of reservoirs in Ohio's Mahoning Valley Wednesday in terms of vital defense products.

Cummins appeared before the senate committee on education, considering flood control legislation which would authorize Ohio Valley projects totaling $45,000,000.

The present Mahoning River water supply, Cummins said, might curtail steel output 28,000 tons a year.

"Twenty-eight thousand tons of steel," he said, "should be sufficient to build two 10,000-ton cruisers for the navy or 1,000,000 rounds of 105-millimeter ammunition for the army, or produce nearly 3,000,000 barrels of 50-caliber machine guns, all essential in the present emergency."

An Ohio delegation, including Cummins, testified that two reservoirs should be constructed at a cost of approximately $13,000,000 near the Youngstown-Warren steel district.

Representative Michael J. Kirwan, Youngstown Democrat, introduced letters from President Roosevelt and William S. Knudsen, saying construction could start promptly if congressional appropriated funds. The president said war department engineers had completed designs.

Berlin Claims Last Guardians Of Kiev Taken

(International News Service)
BERLIN, July 17.—German infantry divisions have captured the last remnants of underground, three-story Soviet bunkers guarding the Ukrainian capital of Kiev, the official Berlin radio reported today.

One bunker was said to have been captured by a small infantry unit which advanced under the protective cloak of artificial fog.

Challenge Order To Post Bond In Strike Trouble

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 17.—A CIO leader and two West Penn hospital strikers today challenged an old English common law that would compel them to post $5,000 bonds against their participation in picket line violence.

The trio, arrested yesterday on order of Judge Samuel H. Gardner, were Jack Strobel, leader of the striking CIO-State, County & Municipal Workers; Frank August, 23, and Walter Buneeck, 21, both strikers.

Attorney Benjamin C. Sigal asked for dismissal of District Attorney Andrew T. Park's complaint as to today's hearing began. He contended the petition did not come within the state statute, was too general making the procedure contrary to the state and federal constitutions, and failed to define the defendants guilty of specific crimes or offenses.

Assistant District Attorney George F. Langfitt opposed Sigal's contention.

"Peanut Politics" Charge Against State Treasurer

Accusation Is Made By Secretary Of Labor And Industry

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 17.—Secretary of Labor and Industry Lewis C. Hines today accused State Treasurer G. Harold Wagner of playing "peanut politics" in withholding salaries of 4000 employees in Hines' department.

In a letter to the members of his department, Hines said:

"Mr. Wagner has taken this action in order to force the Social Security Board to accede to his demands that he may be permitted to hire persons in a manner contrary to the rules and regulations of the board."

"Several days ago Mr. Wagner attempted to place on the payroll of the bureau of employment and unemployment compensation, several persons in defiance of instructions from the Social Security Board. I refuse to countenance this action. And he carried out his threat to deprive the employees of this department of the salary checks."

"I have been informed by the treasury department that all monies for the bureau of employment and unemployment compensation will be held up until after the adjournment of the legislature. The salaries for the rest of the department will be paid."

Deluxe Copy Of Own Book Given To Noted Author

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 17.—Dr. A. M. Dudley, who wrote the article on "Electric Motors" in the current edition of Encyclopedia Britannica, recently received from his publisher a deluxe 50,000th copy of his book, "Connecting Induction Motors."

Dr. Dudley, engineering representative in the patent department of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company, wrote his "best seller" among technical volumes some 20 years ago and never expected his book to become a handbook for technicians and a text book for self-help students studying electricity.

He explained that he began to accumulate material for the volume more than a quarter of a century ago. In 1916, he said, he wrote a 12,000 word article for the Electric Journal, and then extended it to a series of 15 individual pieces, which appeared intermittently until 1920.

"By that time," the electrical expert continued, "my accumulated fan mail indicated the need for a book on the subject."

Dr. Dudley has designed induction motors, managed the automotive engineering for Westinghouse, supervised engineering development and was a corps engineer in the marine engineering department in his 38 years with the firm.

Billy Conn Is Very Outspoken

(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, July 17.—Prizefighter Billy Conn is a famous man in Hollywood today, and it has nothing to do with the fact that he almost whipped Champion Joe Louis or that he was signed up to become a movie actor.

No sir, it's all because of what the husky fighter said to starlet Jean Parker.

Out at the Republic studio, Conn was introduced to the actress, who will work with him in his first picture, "The Kid From Pittsburgh."

"I saw you before," he said, "that time you made a personal appearance in Pittsburgh."

"You did," said Jean, "how did you like the show?"

The starlet says she almost fell out of her chair at the reply.

"Boy," said Conn seriously, "it sure was lousy!"

Another Strike In Detroit Area

Management Officials Said The Company Is Engaged On Work On Two More Carriers For The Pittsburgh Steamship Company

(International News Service)
DETROIT, July 17.—Five hundred C.I.O. workers struck at the Great Lakes Engineering company today, forcing the huge ship-building concern to cease production.

The strikers affiliated with the Steel Workers Organizing committee, charged the company refused to bargain collectively.

Management officials said the company is engaged on work on two more carriers for the Pittsburgh Steamship company. Navy contracts are anticipated, officials said.

The walkout was voted last night in the face of a ruling by the State Labor Mediation board that a 30-day waiting period was in effect before the strike could be staged because the ore carrier contracts were construed as being of a defense nature.

Predict Japan U. S. And Britain To Have Alliance

Japanese Embassy Circles In London See Agreement On Pacific And Far East

(International News Service)
LONDON, July 17.—Japanese embassy circles in London today expressed conviction that before the war is over Japan will have a formal alliance with the United States and Great Britain covering the Pacific coast and the Far East.

These quarters could not predict the immediate outcome of the Japanese cabinet crisis, but revealed the government of Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye was sharply divided on policy, necessitating the resignation.

There have been repeated indications that Japanese naval men, favoring rapprochement with Britain and the United States, may be gaining the upper hand. Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japanese ambassador to London, who is now on his way home is a champion of this policy. Shigemitsu is said to believe that German domination of Soviet Russia perhaps as far as the Pacific coast of Siberia, would be "intolerable" to Japan.

Despite this optimistic outlook, British government circles were known to be concerned over Japanese military preparations.

"In common with the United States," an authoritative spokesman said, Britain is closely watching Japanese developments.

Actions such as the calling up of Japanese reservists were said "naturally" to be causing some concern in London circles.

Eire Residents
Lead Placid Life

By STEPHEN BARRETT

DUBLIN, July 17.—An hour in an airplane and I stepped from one world into another from the fiery atmosphere of a nation fighting for her existence to a peaceful, easygoing, happy-go-lucky Irish city.

"It must be pretty bad across the way," said the first friend who greeted me in Dublin.

He spoke with the air of one who was talking about something that had happened in Mars, or in the centuries B. C.

"It must be pretty bad across the way," seemed to be a fair summary of the Irish outlook on what was happening in these cities and towns which I had left in 12 hours earlier.

During those last few days in Eire I shook my head to make sure that I really wasn't sleeping and dreaming. People went to work in the morning with the certainty that their office was there. They never left half an hour or an hour earlier because streets barred to the use of the public entailed a wide detour in order to reach the office, the shop or the factory.

Life Proceeds Normally
Men were not working in 12-hour shifts, furiously, heroically, because upon them depended the ultimate safety of their home and Fatherland. Women still nursed babies sitting on seats in parks.

The majority of men still wore civilian dress although little badges on their coat lapels indicated that at night three or four times a week they became soldiers for a few hours after work, donned a uniform, and shouldered a rifle.

People even asked me, "what does the siren sound like?"
Except for tea, coffee, cocoa and flour there were supplies in plenty in the shops. In a cafe, the waitress showed me a menu upon which a variety of meat dishes set my mouth watering.

With an apologetic air she explained that if I had roll with my soup there would be no biscuit or cake with my coffee. The government was conserving flour supplies and forbade the serving of two wheat courses at the same meal in public restaurants.

Second Helpings Obtainable
Gladly I decided to forego the roll and ordered lamb cutlets—plenty of them—and a second helping.

Without blinking an eyelid the waitress brought me my second helping of cutlets. Surely they must be doing things like this every day in Eire, and butter—plenty of butter which I used on my potatoes for the first time since I had visited my aunt in the country at the age of six.

Yes, if I wished I could have bread and butter—plenty of butter—with my coffee instead of biscuits.

At night there were lights in the streets, shaded it was true to prevent glare in the sky, but nevertheless lights by which you could see the curbstones, lights which gave you confidence. Motor cars with their headlights passed down a busy street at 30 m.p.h.

No Air Raid Worries
People stepped out into the highway to cross the road boldly although it was close on midnight.

In Cork I asked seven people before I was able to get an answer about the location of the nearest air raid shelter, the seventh told me "It's down there, but it's not quite completed yet."

At my hotel the night porter made a shy request to be allowed to don my gas mask. He fingered it as if it were something from another world, tried it on awkwardly, and took it off quickly with the words, "I could never wear one of those things."

He didn't know anybody who had been killed as a result of war action, though no doubt some of his friends in England—he had worked there once—were dead. "It must be pretty bad across there," he said. Yes, I said, it is pretty bad across there.

WOMAN HOBO ON ROAD ELEVEN YEARS
(International News Service)

DENNISON, O., July 17.—Hobbling via freight train generally is considered dangerous enough to be exclusively in a man's province, but Caroline Sciarone, 49, who said she has no home, told police she has been "on the road" for 11 years.

The woman was fined $10 and costs in mayor's court for hopping freight trains, and sent to county jail when she was unable to pay the fine. She told authorities that she was en route to Maine "to look over the country."

Councilman Dunlap Seeks Second Term
Cites Record Of Efficient Operation Of His Department In Four Years

W. H. DUNLAP

Councilman William H. Dunlap today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for reelection to city council. His statement follows:

"Four years ago when I was elected to city council I pledged my best efforts towards an economical administration of the city affairs. After induction I was assigned the street department which department I have handled since."

"It is one thing to promise economy and efficiency but sometimes an entirely different matter to produce results. As head of the street department I have made savings in operation costs and at the same time increased the mileage of paved streets in the city. Along with the mayor and other members of the city council I aided in reducing taxes and in order to do this the street department as well as the others had to show savings."

"There is no new promise that I wish to make in this announcement for nomination upon the Republican ticket. I said four years ago that the street department could be run economically and it has been. I repeat it now and if nominated and elected will use the same judgment in spending tax money as I have in the past four years."

"Through co-operation with the W. P. A. we have added to our paved street mileage in the city, thus providing work for men out of work, and giving the citizens the improvement at a low cost. Paved streets add to the cost of maintenance ordinarily but the total maintenance costs each year have shown a decline."

"If the citizens approve of the idea of saving their money I will appreciate their endorsement on September 9 at the primary election."

Food Chain Adopts 5-Day Week Policy

A. & P. Shorter Work Hour Plan Will Be Extended Throughout Organization As Soon As Possible

PITTSBURGH, July 17.—John A. Hartford, president of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, today announced the adoption of the five-day work week for retail store employees as the company's national policy.

The five-day, 48-hour week, first in the history of the retail food business, was introduced on an experimental basis in A. & P. stores in a few eastern states two months ago, Hartford said, and will now be extended throughout the entire A. & P. organization "as far and as fast" as possible.

"Frankly, however, we must recognize," Hartford said, "that in a few states and some cities the introduction of this shorter work week may be delayed or even prevented by state and local labor regulations and local agreements."

In Pittsburgh, C. A. Brooks, president of the central division, said that the shorter week will be in effect before Labor Day in A. & P. food stores in hundreds of communities throughout this area. He pointed out that the pay of employees affected by this policy will remain as for the six-day week, and although employees will work only five days a week, stores will continue to serve customers six days as usual.
